

School commitments & study opportunities

Non-scheduled class time

At BSSC, we have some time on our timetable that is not scheduled for class time (see adjacent timetable). This time allows for students to access their teachers for 1:1 or small group support, to attend study support sessions, revision presentations and catch-up practical class.

At various times throughout the year, students will be scheduled into School Assessed Coursework (SACs) and if behind in classes, into compulsory Redemption Sessions. It is therefore very important that students realise their daily commitment is from 9.00am-3.30pm and they do not make other arrangements at this time.

All students should fully utilise the opportunities that are available to them. Those who do, will find it much easier to manage the workload of Years 11 and 12 and reach their full potential.

Exam preparation

Thorough exam preparation at both year levels starts from the beginning of the year. Students should begin practicing exam questions early in the year and can use the study session opportunities, and September Revision Program, to do so.

BSSC will continue to provide various exam preparation opportunities, such as on and off-site revision lectures, practice exam sessions and expert Masterclasses. The cost of these sessions will be fully covered by the college, including external revision lectures.

Students can access information about these sessions via: <https://sites.google.com/bssc.edu.au/bsscrevision/home>. All students are strongly encouraged to access these opportunities.
